

Ulster Medical Society Lecture Programme 2023-2024

Dr Athinyaa Thiraviaraj

Athinyaa is a diabetes doctor working in Derry. She undertook her under-graduation in Chennai, India and pursued her postgraduate training in Northern Ireland completing her speciality training in 2012. Athinyaa now works as a Consultant Physician in Endocrine & Diabetes at Altnagelvin Hospitals in Derry/Londonderry @WesternHSCTrust. She is a Fellow of the Scottish Quality and Safety fellowship Cohort 9 @SQSFellowship and a qualified quality improvement team coach @FCACoaching. She is Director of Medical Education at Western Trust.

Athinyaa's interests are Medical education, quality improvement, type 1 diabetes, diabetes in pregnancy and diabetes care in the young person. Her interests lie in exploring new interfaces and technology that can enhance the experience for the user in both health care and education. Mottos that best describe Athinyaa's approach to life:

- Festina lente (make haste slowly);
- Be the change you wish to see in the world.
